257-We should call attention to several advertisements that appear in today's issue, but we cannot for want of time.

258-There will be a select Cotillon Party at the "Gibson House" on Thursday evening next. This house is famous for good things.

259-We issue a supplement to the Telegraph, in order not to have the regular edition encumbered with the "Deliquent Tax List."

260-The absence of the editor will account for the limited amount of editorial in this number. By next week we will have his correspondence from Columbus.

261-Navigation is wholly suspended, in consequence of floating ice. If the weather does not moderate within a day or two, the river will be frozen over.

262-Republican National Convention. The time fixed upon for holding the Republican National Convention for the nomination of candidates for President and Vice President, is the 13th of June next, and the place Chicago, Illinois.

263-Gov. Wiles' Speech. We had intended to publish Gov. Wiles' speech to the Medical students who left the University of Pennsylvania, but other matters crowded it out. We will publish next week that portion of it which we think will interest our readers the most.

264-Second concert by the Music class of Prof. Munson will be given at the Court House this evening. Miss Julia Munson will also assist in the performance, which fact, of itself, renders it quite certain that it will be of a high order.

265-The Concert of the Welsh Baptist Church, which was held in the Court House on Saturday evening last, was well attended, and those who did attend were well repaid. Rev. Bowen delivered a lecture on "Europe and America contrasted," which we hear spoken of as a "real treat."

266-The Cotillon Party at the "Remington House," on Thursday evening last, notwithstanding the inclement weather, was very well attended, and is conceded to be the best party of the season. The managers deserve credit for the strict performance of their duties. The music, by Messrs. Huttel, Bibbs, Wells and Dawson was excellent, and the supper was such as to fully sustain the justly acquired reputation of the host and hostess.

267-It will require no extra amount of perception to observe that the Telegraph is considerably enlarged, and the whole material upon which it is printed, renewed.

268-We shall not speak, at present, of the improved appearance of our paper, but we are sure our readers will not ask when they consider the amount of labor bestowed on the renewal of the type, &c.

269-We, the undersigned, having had the privilege of a trip from Cincinnati to Pomeroy on the new side-wheel steamer, Gray Eagle, deem it a duty, as well as a privilege, to commend her to the traveling public.

270-We bear cheerful testimony to the gentlemanly bearing of the officers, the efficiency of the crew, and the unerring attention of the servants.

271-The table tells anything we have seen on the western water.

272-The speed of the boat is greater than any other in the up-river trade, and the comfort afforded to passengers cannot be excelled.

273-CAPT. E. WILLIAMSON, W. P. BARNUM, Banker, N. Y.

274-S. M. BRINT, Minister, D. D. WILLIAMS, Minister.

This document is before us, and we should be pleased to publish it if we thought its insertion, to the exclusion of almost all other matter, would be agreeable to our readers. Thinking they would prefer a variety of matter, we simply take an editorial from the Cincinnati Gazette in regard to it:

Much of our space this morning is occupied by the Presidential Message, several pages prepared for the enlightenment of the country, and now in formally published, lest it should slip before it could be regularly transmitted to an organized Congress. It is a worthy production, containing no startling information, or much that is new in any sense.

Its chief novelty is that portion in which the "constitutionally guaranteed" rights of the country, and now in formally published, lest it should slip before it could be regularly transmitted to an organized Congress. It is a worthy production, containing no startling information, or much that is new in any sense.

Mr. McKnight said that his object was to show that Seward had received more honor than was due him.

Mr. Pryor resumed the floor, and both he and Mr. McKnight were speaking loudly at the same time, causing much confusion.

Mr. Pryor said that the gentleman should not under a hypocritical and false pretense, inject a speech in the body of this House. He had yielded the floor for a few moments only, and he regarded the gentleman's conduct as another violation of obligations by northern representatives.

Mr. McKnight of Indiana, nominated Charles L. Scott, of California, as a candidate for Speaker, who he thought ought to be satisfactory to every national man.

After a call of the House, a ballot was taken with the following result:

Whole number of votes, 210; McKnight a choice 106; Sherman 102; Scott 83; Gilmer 14; scattering 11.

The House then adjourned.

Great Excitement in Bolivar, Mo.—Democratic Fight between White Men and Negroes.

(Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Gazette.) St. Louis, Dec. 28, 1889.

A special dispatch to the Democrat, from Bolivar, Missouri, states that on Monday night a gang of negroes made a sudden and desperate attack upon a few white men, at that place, with rocks, &c.

The latter boldly resisted the assault and drove the negroes to the woods. Fire arms were freely used on both sides.

The blacks, after being driven back, threatened to burn the town, but a vigilance committee was organized, and a vigilance committee was organized, and a vigilance committee was organized.

One negro was dangerously wounded, and several were arrested. A vigilance committee was appointed to ascertain the names of those engaged in the riot, and arrest them.

A mounted company was promptly organized, and proceeded to the woods in search of the rioters. Such of them were arrested were summarily dealt with, and severely punished. The greatest excitement prevailed, and every white man in the neighborhood was under arms, but the blacks having been conquered, the excitement yesterday was subsiding.
